Laka Competition’15: Architecture that Reacts

Brief

— architecture that reacts.

Laka Competitions invites designers from around the world to submit their ideas of ‘architecture that reacts’. That means architecture which is able to respond and adjust dynamically to the current needs and circumstances. These circumstances are often unpredictable, but their consequences can be crucial. The architecture that reacts is the architecture that lives as a living organism, since it responds to the external stimuli and it develops because of it.

— to react is to live.

Awards

1st Prize: 2,500 USD
2nd Prize: 1,500 USD
3rd Prize: 1,000 USD

Winners and special mentions will be published in several international online magazines and at the Laka Competitions website. The best proposals will be selected and commented on by the international panel of judges.

Interdisciplinary teams are also encouraged to join.

- Registration opens June 1, 2015
- Early Registration: 50 USD until July 1, 2015
- Regular Registration: 75 USD until October 1, 2015
- Late Registration: 100 USD until October 20, 2015
- Project submission deadline: October 31, 2015 (23:59 UTC)

For details please visit: www.lakareacts.com/competition

These efforts will be compiled in a 3D lazer cut fabricated detail form as the final graded seminar requirement after submitting the digital project presentation submission.